1966 NAS REPORT

Few are adequately trained in the advanced techniques of cardiopulmonary resuscitation, childbirth, or other lifesaving measures, yet every ambulance and rescue squad attendant, policeman, fire-fighter, paramedical worker and worker in high-risk industry should be trained.

Status report:

Illinois statewide trauma care system

ON JANUARY 23, 1971 Governor Richard B. Ogilvie introduced a Plan for the Development of a Statewide System of Trauma Centers in Illinois. Later, on April 1, in a special message on health care,¹ Governor Ogilvie discussed the future development of some 40 specialized centers for the care of the critically injured patient to be designated throughout the state. These centers would be specially staffed

DAVID R. BOYD, M.D.C.M., (left) is chief of the Division of Emergency Medical Services and Highway Safety, Illinois Department of Public Health, and assistant professor of surgery at the Abraham Lincoln School of Medicine.

KENNETH D. MAINS (center) is administrator of the Division of Emergency Medical Services and Highway Safety, Illinois Department of Public Health. Mr. Mains joined IDPH in June, 1971, after serving 24 years in the U.S. Navy where he gained experience in medical evacuation of the injured.

EMS ACT REVISIONS 1993

Section 210 ILCS 50/33 - Continuation of Act; validation

(a) The General Assembly finds and declares that:

(1) When the Emergency Medical Services (EMS) Systems Act was originally enacted by Public Act 81-1518, effective December 15, 1980, it included a Section 25, which repealed the Act on January 1, 1986. This Section appeared in the Laws of Illinois, but was not included in Illinois revised statutes.

(b) It is hereby declared to have been the intent of the General Assembly, in enacting Public Act 84-1064, that the old Section 25 be replaced by the new Section 25, and that the Act therefore not be subject to repeal on January 1, 1986.

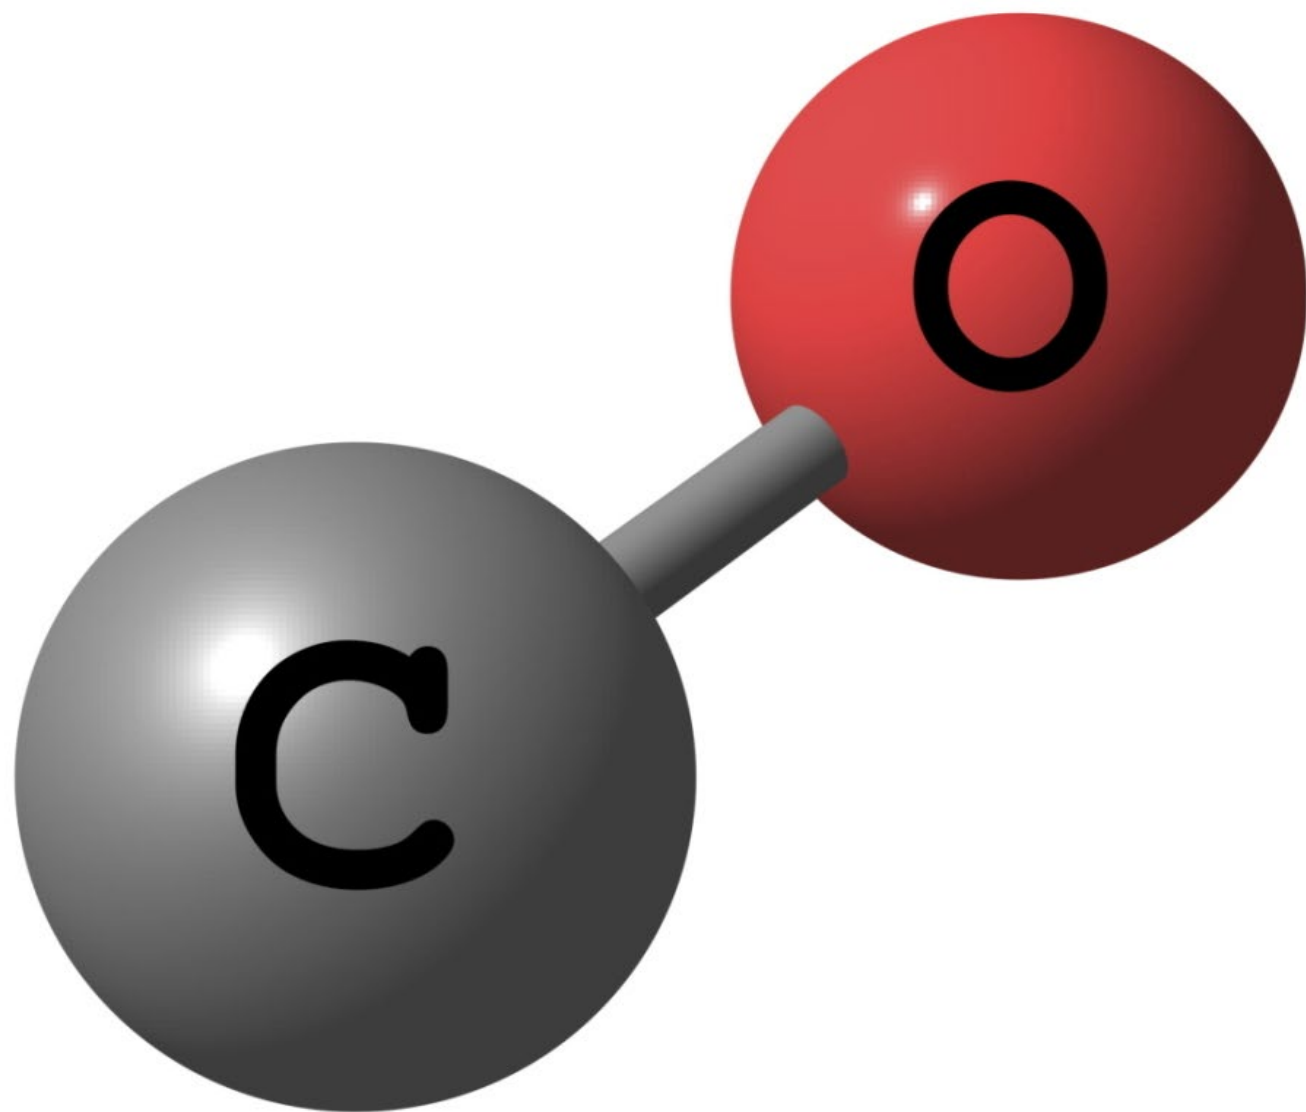

(c) The Emergency Medical Services (EMS) Systems Act shall be deemed to have been in continuous effect since its enactment, and it shall continue to be in effect henceforward until it is otherwise lawfully repealed. All previously enacted amendments to the Act taking effect on or after January 1, 1986, are hereby validated.

(d) All actions taken in reliance on or pursuant to the Emergency Medical Services (EMS) Systems Act by the Illinois Department of Public Health or any other person or entity are hereby validated.
